SHOP

Alton Lane

This bespoke suit shop in the Flatiron district features all the amenities you'd expect from an old-school Southern clothier—tumblers of bourbon, clubby leather couches, and exceptional service—plus a futuristic twist: a walk-in computerized measurement system (imagine a high-tech photo booth) that creates a true-to-scale digital avatar for every client. Suits are customizable, and they arrive within three to four weeks. Best of all, the whole experience costs around $500. Showroom by appointment only. 1133 Broadway; altonlane.com
